McCLELLAN'S PAY, $26,250, IS HELD UP

The Mayor of New York Hasn't Received a Cent Since the Hearst Suit Began.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 11.—Mayor McClellan has not received one cent of salary since William R. Hearst began his action to test the title to the office of mayor, and people are wondering if he will get it before his term expires. His back pay already amounts to $26,250, while the litigation is still in progress.

In the court of appeals, the whole session was occupied in hearing arguments in the McClellan-Hearst mayoralty recount case. The action is to determine the constitutionality of a bill passed by the last legislature, and known as chapter 5381 of the laws of 1907.

The case came up on two appeals on orders of the appellate division of the first and second departments, denying two applications for peremptory writs of prohibition to debar William R. Hearst and his attorney, Clarence J. Shaw, from further entertaining or carrying on proceedings for a recount or recount of the ballots cast at the election for mayor held in New York in November, 1905.

NEARLY KILLED IN DEFENSE OF MILLIONS

Aged Watchman Is Beaten and Choked by Robbers Who Sought Keys to Get at Riches in a Safe.

New York, Oct. 11.—An aged watchman's faithful performance of his duty, even when death was threatened, prevented a robbery early yesterday which, if it had been successful, might have caused a sensation almost as great as that which followed the looting of the Manhattan bank many years ago.

Richard F. Grey, watchman in the Century building, at 74 Broadway, near the center of the financial district, was the hero. He is now in the Hudson street hospital, suffering from wounds which he received in a desperate single-handed fight against two robbers who attacked him while he was making his rounds on the 16th floor of the building, a few hours after midnight.

Although 60 years old, Grey made a determined fight, and it was not until he had been pounded until almost unconscious that he was overcome.

Even then he refused to reveal the hiding place of the keys to the hundreds of officers in the great building.

In their desperation the robbers choked the old man as he lay bleeding on the floor, and then began a systematic search of the lower portion of the building for the missing keys.

Apparently they were unsuccessful in their search, for when Grey revived and staggered down the 16 flights of stairs to the basement, the men had disappeared.

When the police came in response to his alarm, the first thing they did was to call an ambulance to have the battered watchman removed to a hospital.

Grey gave a good description of his assailants, and the police believe they will be captured.

A detective who had a talk with Grey is of the opinion that a clerk at one time employed in the building was the instigator of the attempted robbery, and that his companion was an expert bank thief.

"These men had gotten the keys from the watchman," said the detective, "they would have done a job that would have made the Manhattan bank robbery look like a cheap affair."

"They were after one safe in that building, and that was all they wanted. They knew that the securities in that safe were worth untold thousands, and they also knew that to attempt to force the door would ring burglar alarms, and that in an instant the building would be surrounded by police."

DIVORCES.

Worse Than Denizens of Levee, Says the Rev. R. A. Torrey.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 11.—"I would rather receive into my home the denizens of the levee than those men and women high in society who commit polygamy and adultery by divorce. They are on no higher moral plane, and they ought to know better," said the Rev. R. A. Torrey, an evangelist who is well known in Boston, in his sermon in the gospel tent at Chestnut and North Clark streets.

"The divorce who remarries is an adulteress in the sight of God. You say we have the legal divorce. Yes, but is it considered legal according to the reckoning of Jesus Christ? In the upper classes of society—in polite society—a man is divorced, remarried, and is received again with open arms. Nothing is thought of the disgraceful proceeding.

"The meanest being in the world is the man who steps in between husband and wife and destroys peace and happiness. But the most despicable, vilest, most contemptible, most beastly thing, is the woman who steps in between man and wife. She is less than the commonest and worst thief."

"It is none of your business whether your father is a drunkard, a murderer, or a thief. You must love your father and your mother. Never before was this more true than in the present era, when children believe themselves superior to their parents because of a high school or college education. There is no shorter route to prosperity and happiness than by loving your parents, or a shorter road to ruin and death than by not being loyal to them."

CHURCH AND REMARRIAGE

Will be no Further Restriction by Episcopalians

DISCUSSION AT RICHMOND

Episcopal Bishops Refuse to Alter Divorce Canon—Resolution as Offered by Bishop Doane Was Rejected.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 11.—Bags of gold, packages of coin wrapped in gay colors and two checks for $100,000 each were contained in the offering which was laid on the table at Holy Trinity church upon the occasion of the presentation of the men's thank offering, estimated at upward of $1,000,000.

The action of the bishops in regard to marriage was the absorbing theme in the auditorium and even the counting of the rich thank offering appeared secondary in interest.

A resolution offered by Bishop Doane of Albany, N. Y., in the house of bishops of the general Episcopal convention, the purpose of which was to deny the ceremony of marriage to any persons having living husbands or wives, having been divorced from them, was rejected by the house after a lengthy discussion, in which many of the more prominent members joined.

The rejection of the resolution followed the report of the special committee on marriage and divorce appointed for the purpose of rendering an opinion on this matter. The committee recommended that the resolution be rejected, and this recommendation was favorably acted upon.

The bishop of Albany was the author of the resolution adopted at the Boston convention in 1904 which limited the remarriage of divorced persons to the innocent party. The Boston canon strengthened considerably the position of the church on the question, the present law requiring that a minister shall obtain the sanction of his bishop or ecclesiastical authority before performing the marriage ceremony for any divorced person.

The convention, by the vote of the bishops, seems to imply that this canon is sufficiently prohibitive.

Bishop Doane and his adherents maintained that the divorce evil is now a national problem. They hold that the present state of society in the United States presents to the church a crisis which can be faced only by the most heroic measures. Bishop Doane is of the opinion that the marriage of a divorced person in any event is an evil.

PRAYED AS FIRE RAGED ON SHIP IN MID-OCEAN

Panic Among the 763 Passengers of the Giulia During a Storm; the Crew Fought All Day With Burning Cargo in Hold.

New York, Oct. 11.—The Austrian steamer Giulia, which arrived yesterday from Trieste with 763 passengers, had a narrow escape from destruction by fire in mid-ocean during a violent storm on Oct. 3. The crew fought the flames all day before they were extinguished, while the panic-stricken passengers prayed for help.

The Giulia left Trieste, Sept. 14, with passengers and cargo. She stopped at Patras, Greece, and Almeria, and embarked more passengers until the total was 763 in the cabin and 736 in the steerage. The Giulia passed Gibraltar, Sept. 25, and then ran into stormy weather with heavy seas.

About daylight on Oct. 3, word was passed to Capt. Cherulim that fire was in the cargo of No. 2 hold. A great storm prevailed at the time, the wind blowing in violent gusts from the southwest. A fire-fighting force was organized, and part of the cargo was broken out to get at the fire.

Water was turned out, but the fire was stubborn and refused to submit to the efforts of the crew. In the meantime the passengers became aware of the danger and became restless. The officers went among them to soothe the alarm, but many prayed, while the women and children sobbed and became hysterical.

The ship's boats were prepared to meet any emergency. After filling the hold with water and through incessant hard work, the fire was finally extinguished about 3 o'clock in the afternoon. A part of the cargo was thrown overboard to get at the fire at the bottom of the hold.

Water was turned out, but the fire was stubborn and refused to submit to the efforts of the crew. In the meantime the passengers became aware of the danger and became restless. The officers went among them to soothe the alarm, but many prayed, while the women and children sobbed and became hysterical.

Fair Faces Marred by Signs of Silent Suffering

A woman's features quickly announce by lines of suffering any disturbance of health. Dull sunken eyes surrounded by dark rings, blanched cheeks and lips, and a sallow complexion tell of anemia's ravages; while low spirits, indigestion and backaches complete her misery.

To the suffering sex at all ages, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills give a helping hand and the joy of full health by increasing, enriching, and purifying the blood.

Mrs. Evelyn Creusere, of 817 Boulevard West, Detroit, Mich., says: "My trouble began about six years ago and after a time I became so weak I could not do any work at all. I had severe backaches and such dreadful headaches in the back part and top of my head. My eyes were easily tired and at times I saw black spots before them. I consulted several doctors but without the slightest benefit."

"I lost continually in weight and strength and was almost in despair until I tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. At the end of three months I had gained ten pounds in weight and had no more trouble with my nerves. I have been in perfect health ever since and heartily commend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

TAKE JAMESTOWN RECEIPTS?

$900,000 Is Still Owed to the National Government.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 11.—Treasury officials are seriously discussing the question of taking over the gate receipts of the Jamestown exposition from next Monday until the end of the season, with the view of collecting for the government as much as possible of the loan which Congress made to the directors.

It was the distinct understanding in Congress when the loan was made that if the exposition authorities failed to pay promptly, the treasury department would take charge of the gate receipts, and members of Congress are urging the government to take steps for the protection of the loan. Nearly $900,000 is now due the government, and as the exposition has only about seven weeks to run, there is small hope of getting any considerable part of the money back.

KIPLING PROPOSES IMMIGRATION BAR.

Time to Choose Between Home Stock and Foreigners For British Columbia.

Victoria, B. C., Oct. 11.—Rudyard Kipling, at a luncheon at the Canadian club, speaking of the immigration problem of British Columbia, said the solution was the aiding of immigration of people of British stock, thousands of whom await an opportunity to Canada's east territory.

The time had arrived to choose between this desired re-enforcement of native stock and the undesirable rush of races whose instincts are separated by thousands of years. The choice cannot be delayed, it must be made at once.

SIXTH TOE BETRAYS MURDER SUSPECT.

Michael Maffey Identified Here as Man Wanted in Italy—Will Be Sent Back.

Boston, Oct. 11.—Michael Maffey, who is wanted in Italy on the charge of murdering his wife, was identified by the Boston police yesterday by the fact that he had six toes on one of his feet.

Maffey was arrested by a police inspector as he was boarding a train for Vermont. The murder for which he is held took place in Camidada, Avelina, Italy, last June. He has been a fugitive from justice ever since, and came to Boston only a few days ago. He will be extradited and returned to Italy for trial.

KIDNEY TROUBLES

The kidneys are essential organs for keeping the body free from impurities. If they should fail to work death would ensue in very short time.

Inflammation or irritation caused by some feminine derangement may spread to some extent to the kidneys and affect them. The cause can be so far removed by using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that the trouble will disappear.

When a woman is troubled with pain or weight in loins, backache, swelling of the limbs or feet, swelling under the eyes, an uneasy, tired feeling in the region of the kidneys, she should lose no time in commencing treatment with
